Jamie's parents divorced when he was a child but they worked hard to ease the pain this brought to their son. Today, he has a close relationship with both his father and stepfather. Scott and Jamie have been long-time friends and Scott has always had tremendous respect for his friend's humility and for having a knack for simply doing the right things all the time. Jamie is now a Director with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in North Alabama. In the episode, Jamie made a powerful statement: "If God made of list of the 100 best Christians on earth today, nobody would recognize any of the names." His point is that we often glorify the "spiritually rich and famous" but God is not calling us to be such. He is calling us to be faithful in the little things of life, day in and day out, regardless of whether or not anybody notices. Jamie's story will inspire you.
