

Perhaps the most moving part of this interview came when we watched as Keith's three children paid tribute to him. You can tell a lot about a man by what his kids say about him. This is a story of a man who modeled what it means to care for and serve others. Keith's dad was a traveling evangelist so he was away from home a lot. Nevertheless, Keith's dad made sure he knew he was loved. In the interview, Keith tells the story of the sunny afternoon when his dad was dressed in his suit and about to walk out the door to drive 3 hours to preach a revival service. Keith's dad had forgotten that earlier that day, his son had asked him to go fishing with him. As his dad walked out the door, he saw Keith standing there with the fishing rods and tackle box ready to go. His dad walked right back into the house, took off his suit, changed into his fishing clothes, walked across their property, and took twenty minutes to go fishing with his son before he left to drive 3 hours and preach. Every preacher's kid needs to see this interview.
